WFO report of SA CARL F. MAISCH, entitled [redacted] dated 6/16/53, reflects [redacted] (U)

[redacted] indicated that through contact with such students in class at the University of Vienna and the University coffee shop, and other meeting points, he met PETER SEMLER. [redacted] described SEMLER as a strange individual and as the typical son of a wealthy family lacking in any genuine interests. [redacted] indicated that SEMLER's eccentricities included wearing old clothes in Vienna, racing about on motorcycles and patronizing what [redacted] termed as horrible dives and beer joints in Vienna, whereupon SEMLER would appear a bit unsteady on his appearance at the University on the following morning. [redacted] indicated that SEMLER's attendance at the University of Vienna was rather irregular and reported that SEMLER was possibly interested in obtaining State Department employment through the alleged influence of relatives in the US. (S) (U)

[redacted] described SEMLER as being rather pro-German and pro-Nazi and rather anti-American in his views and frequently indicated his feeling that America has no culture. [redacted] advised that SEMLER has no feeling pro or anti-Russian, but appears intrigued and curious concerning developments in Russia. (S) (U)
